

ALISON SHAW PHOTOGRAPHY

MENTORSHIP

October 24 – May 19, 2017

[break for holidays between November 21 and January 3]

Sharpen your Focus:
taking your work to the next level

We are so excited to be offering our 6-month Mentorship program, for students who want a deeper, more intensive learning experience.

Alison has been teaching week-long workshops for 25 years, and has taught over 1000 students in locations around the world. She's known for her striking black & white and color photography. Her work fills 20 books, and is in thousands of private collections around the world. If there's one piece of constructive feedback we've gotten the most, it's that students wish they had more one-on-one time with her. So we're happy to now offer exactly that – and so much more.

Sue is Alison's partner in life and business. In addition to running our gallery, Sue is an Art Director, with many years' experience evaluating portfolios, hiring and managing photographers, art directing shoots, purchasing licensing rights, and designing with photos at The Boston Globe, Martha's Vineyard Magazine, and the TAB newspapers in the Boston area. She does all of our marketing, writing, and design (books, cds, posters, self-promotion).

If you've been thinking about deepening your understanding of photography, developing a portfolio, marketing your work, designing and publishing a book, or just getting back in touch with your creativity, this is for you!

Our calls, teachings, and Mastermind sessions will give you:

INSPIRATION Develop your own unique creative photographic style.

STRUCTURE Set goals, build momentum, and grow as a photographer.

TRAINING Learn technique, strategy, marketing tips, and mindset tools.

STRATEGY Create a portfolio, market your body of work.

SUPPORT Stay on track, and get the encouragement you need.

We're opening twelve spaces for new students in the 2017 Mentorship.

Here's what you'll get in our 6-month Mentorship:

1. FOCAL POINT TOOLKIT Set goals, and track your progress through the Mentorship. This sets your intention for the six months, and creates the velocity for your experience.
2. SEVEN CALL HOURS WITH ALISON These calls will be all about you and your work – developing your own unique creative style, staying consistent and keeping focused. You'll send Alison jpegs of your latest work before each call. During the call, you'll see her screen live on your computer, as you both discuss your photos, and she makes suggestions shown in Adobe Lightroom. Learn how to be your best editor, get custom training, feedback, motivation, and brainstorm ideas. Alison will give you customized assignments that will keep you inspired, and define your next steps toward your goals.
3. FOUR CALL HOURS WITH SUE Get an Art Director / Gallery Owner's eye on your body of work, and advice on your portfolio, graphic identity, website, book ideas, writing, and marketing. Talk about mindset, and open up your creative flow. Brainstorm project ideas.
4. SEVEN TRAININGS Our in-depth trainings cover a number of topics, which have included: getting in touch with your deepest creative self; writing an artist statement and bio; marketing your work; communicating with galleries, and having a show of your work; Alison's digital workflow; publishing a book of your photography; and a fine art printing Q&A.
5. TWO 2-DAY RETREATS ON MARTHA'S VINEYARD Experience the island off-season, when all the locals can relax and truly enjoy this unique place. Starting with a Friday-evening drinks and hors d'oeuvres get-together, and culminating in student Masterminds on Saturday and Sunday, you'll meet other students, learn a lot, and have the unique opportunity to get feedback from the group. Develop your artist statement, body of work, and project ideas with the support of other artists. Alison often talks in-depth about her work, sometimes showing edits, images that didn't make the cut (and why), and her creative process. Sue will bring her designer's eye to the discussion.
6. FACEBOOK GROUP Private group just for our Mentorship students, where you can post photos, get feedback from the group, and encouragement on your progress. Sue will monitor the group page regularly, if you have questions for us.
7. 20% OFF IN THE GALLERY For the duration of the Mentorship, you'll get our best discount on all fine art prints, books, posters, and cards.
8. STUDENT WORK ON OUR WEBSITE Take advantage of our international audience. After the Mentorship ends, we'll post a photo of you, your artist statement, and a slideshow of your best work during our six months together, with a link to your website if you have one.

Retreat dates on Martha's Vineyard:

Friday, January 20, 5:30pm – Sunday, January 22, 3pm

Friday, April 7, 5:30pm – Sunday, April 9, 3pm

 dates subject to change*

Equipment you'll need

For retreats, students who plan to shoot during the weekend will want to bring their digital camera, a tripod, and a laptop for downloading and working with images. Photo shoots are not part of the retreats unless there is time, and the weather allows.

For the online portion of the Mentorship, we'll give you directions for online access to Alison's or Sue's computer screen during your calls, so there's no software you need to purchase. It is helpful to have a computer that is relatively current (within the last 4 years), an internal or external webcam, and an internal microphone or external headset. The remote sessions with Alison and Sue are via computer, and use webcam and audio. For image editing software, Alison will be using the most current version of Adobe Lightroom, which she strongly recommends you use as well.

If you have any questions, feel free to email us: workshops@alisonshaw.com.

Accommodations

You are responsible for booking your own accommodations for the two retreats on the Vineyard, which will be held at our gallery in Oak Bluffs. The Surfside Motel in Oak Bluffs is within walking distance (1-800-537-3007, www.mvsurfside.com). The Mansion House in Vineyard Haven is a good choice if you bring a car (800-332-4112, www.mvmansionhouse.com).

If you'd like a list of other accommodations, or are interested in sharing a room with another student, send us an email, workshops@alisonshaw.com. We don't book rooms for students, but we'll be happy to give you more information.

Meals

Students are responsible for most of their own meals. We'll offer coffee, tea, water, and light snacks at the gallery on Saturday and Sunday, and we will provide lunch on Sunday. Hopefully students' individual preferences and schedules will allow a few meals to be shared at restaurants. Alison and Sue will provide participants with a list of their local favorites.

CANCELLATION, REFUND, TRIP INSURANCE

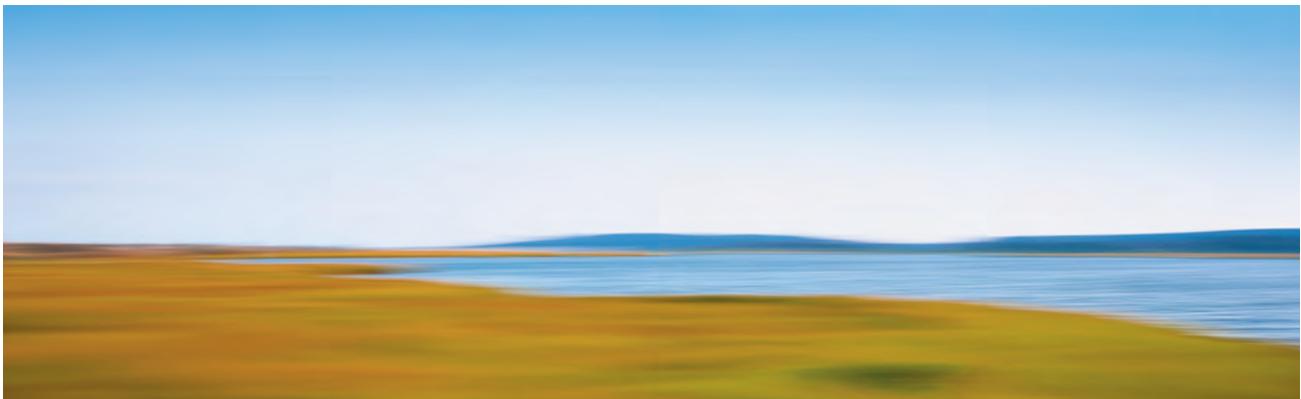

If for any reason you need to withdraw from the Mentorship, please notify us in writing (snail mail, fax, or email). We recommend that you purchase refundable airline tickets, and consider purchasing trip cancellation insurance. We will not be responsible for refunds due to illness, personal emergency, unattended retreats (no shows), or events not under our control.

In the event that the Mentorship program is cancelled, for any reason, at any time before or during the six months, our liability is limited to the return of fees paid to us, on a pro-rated basis. We will not be responsible for loss on airline tickets, or any other losses related to cancellation.

WAIVER OF LIABILITY

We shall have no responsibility for the acts, errors, or omissions of instructors or staff, transportation companies, lodging facilities, restaurants, tour guides and outfitters, or other providers of services to participants in the course of the Mentorship. We have the right to reschedule either retreat and to alter the time, context, or format of the Mentorship in the event circumstances require it. In the event that the Mentorship is cancelled, for any reason, at any time before or during the six months, our liability is limited to the return of fees paid to us, on a pro-rated basis. We will not be responsible for reimbursement of airline tickets, lodging costs, or other costs due to cancellation of the Mentorship or rescheduling of retreats.

What level of experience do I need to have?

The Mentorship program is geared toward students who consider themselves to be serious amateurs. You should be comfortable with the technical aspects of your photography, including shooting with your camera and managing digital workflow on your computer. If you've taken one of our week-long workshops, that's a perfect prerequisite for this program. You should also be ready for a six-month commitment, to work toward realizing your creative vision and personal goals set during the Mentorship.

Should I make this commitment?

Well, of course that's up to you.

We've been hoping to create a program that's different from our workshops. Our workshops are about people coming to learn from Alison, see how she works, and get inspired by her. Our Mentorship is about you. We'll be here to support you in your journey, focus on your work, and invigorate your passion. The Mastermind experience at both retreats, where all of us focus on your journey for a set amount of time, is unmatched as a creatively inspiring tool. This is a supportive environment, a positive one designed to manifest great results. It all comes down to what you invest into it.

The act of making this kind of commitment is hugely empowering. There's a velocity that begins with stating your goals, committing to them, and being accountable, open to feedback, and invested in your creative growth, which is incredible. We'll lay out the framework for you to manifest your best results, and achieve your creative vision.

We're on a roll. And we want to share our enthusiasm with you. Our first three Mentorship groups have accomplished an astounding amount in the course of the program. There are new websites, acceptance into juried gallery shows, lots of new creative directions, a blurb book, great marketing plans, and even an incredible non-profit foundation aimed toward healing through photography, which has flourished in a very short time.

If you're ready, the registration form is on the next page. If you still have questions, please give Sue a call at 508.693.4429 on any weekday.

Now's a good time to jump in...
